Sterling exchange was strong, with actual business in bankers' bills at $1.88%@4.89 for demand and at $4.874@4.8712 for sixty days; posted rates, $4.88@4.88% and $4.80@ 4.89%; commercial bills, $4.86@4.86%. Silver certificates, 50%c bid. Bar silver

The total sales of stocks yesterday were 145,503 shares, including: American Sugar, 32,600; Burlington, 8,400; Chicago Gas, 7,600; Louisville & Nashville, 3,200; Manhattan Consolidated, 5,700; Northwestern, 25,100; Rock Island, 4,700; St. Paul, 13,000; United States Cordage, 4,900; United States Cordage preferred, 3,300. The share speculation was irregular and unsettled throughout the day on a small plume of business, and the final sales show declines compared with Saturday's closing figures in most instances. The advance in sterling exchange exerted a drooping influ-ence in the market, and a majority of the traders took the bear side. The Cordage ks were among the heaviest of the list and were largely sold on rumors of an company deny any knowledge of facts that would call for the appointment of a receiver, and assert that there has been no change in the condition of the company to ent to-day's decline. President Sturgis pranded the receivership story as a lie, and said no meeting of directors had been held authorize such a step. The greater part the selling was credited to an ex-officer of the company. The common declined 114, to 2%, the preferred 214, to 5, and the guaranteed, 314, to 12, these figures being the lowest ever touched, and being 20%, 36 and 60% per cent., respectively, below the high-cst prices made by the stocks, which were reached by June of last year. A slight re-covery was made in the common and preterred in the final trading to-day, but the guaranteed closed at the bottom figure. There was a renewal of the seiling moveent in Northwestern, based on the poor must statement, and a break of 1% was effected, from which there was no raily. Sugar, after an advance of ½, sold down 1% on the liquidation of a speculative account, closing at the lowest point; the pre-ferred fell off %. The most important de-clines on the day were: Northwestern pre-ferred, 24; C., C., C. & St. L., 1%; Mich-igan Central, 14; St. Paul & Omaha pre-ferred.

The trading during the morning in the bond market was listless and the changes trifling. In the late sessions the dealings were more animated, and some material changes were recorded, including Norfolk & Western Equipment fives, which jumped to 5, as against 51½ on Saturday. Green Bay firsts brought 40, against 50 on Jan. 28, The final quotations for the rest of the Issues dealt in are generally lower. The aggregate sales were $692,500.

He Is Dead and the Fair Fay Is Alive and Getting Fatter.

York Herald. Thirty-six years of age, Howell Osborn had attracted more public attention probably than any man of his years. With plenty of money, he squandered it with a lavish hand, burlesque and comic opera actresses being especially recipients of his favors. Charles J. Osborn, his fatner, accumulated a fortune as the favorite broker of Jay Gould, and at his death he left in trust half a million dollars, the income of which was to go to Howell.

The young man's mother died in March 1891, and also left large sums of which Howell could draw the income. In aer will, which made John W. Sterling and the Central Trust Company her executors, it was stated that they could give him $300,000 if it was "necessary for his welfare." They never considered it necessary, but gave him the income, together with that of $400,-000, which he received on the condition that should not contest the probate of the will, as well as the income of one-half of the residue of the estate. A curious clause of the will related to Howell's disposition of the principals of these trusts. It stated that he could bequeath them "to such of his descendants as may be the issue between him and a wife, who, prior to such marriage, had not at any time acted, sung or danced professionally, or otherwise performed for hire on a dramatic stage or other place of amusement or entertainment." Should he die without such issue his share of the es-tate, the will provided, was to go toward the establishment of the Miriam A. Osborn Memorial Home Association, or if that was not incorporated, to Miss Henrietta Olive Trowbridge, his niece.

This provision was generally interpreted as intended to prevent his marriage to Fay Templeton, who, of the many women favorite. Before his father's death Howell had become acquainted with Alice Burville, an English actress, who made her appearance here in "Bitlee Taylor." It was reported that he had married her and it is said his father had to give Alice $12,000 to leave Howell.

He went into Wall street after his father died, but his experience was very disasrous, and he contracted so many that many suits were the result. To satisfy the claim of Will'am L. Strow, who sued for $60,000, said to be borrowed money, Howell's seat in the Stock Exchange was sold. Because of the importunities of his creditors here he was compelled to reside in Paris, and with him of late years was Fay Templeton, the divorced wife of min-strel "Billy" West.

The couple had many quarrels, all based on Howell's attention to other actresses, At one time it was reported that he was to marry Lillian Russell. A few years ago he called on Nina Farrington, who is now playing in the "Twentleth Century Girl."

As he entered her house, at No. 60 West Twenty-fifth street, he heard the voice of a well-known plano dealer in her apartments. He created a big row and, a few days afterward, he sailed for Europe, Nina following him the week afterward. following him the week afterward. When Fay Templeton was playing in "Hendrick Hudson," at the Fourteenthstreet Theater, some years ago, having left Osborn in Paris after a quarrel, he sent $20,000 worth of diamonds to her in the care of his valet, Henry Herischy. Henry tried to smuggle them into the country and was arrested. Fay afterward secured the diamonds. as she said they belonged to her, and when hard luck had overtaken her she was forced to pawn them. Osborn was at the Grand Hotel, in this city, in the latter part of 1893, and Fay was there with him, and they were registered as Mr. and Mrs. Howell Osborn. At that time they both admitted that they had been married some time previously, notwithstanding the prohibitory clause in his mother's will. Some time before his Osborn had wounded his finger with a fork while eating oysters in Paris, and blood poisoning eating oysters in Paris, and blood poisoning had resulted. He was seriously ill and it was feared that his arm must be amputated, but he recovered and came to this Whether or not his widow will take any action to secure his estate, if she has not already been well provided for, is not market recovered some near the end, with trading at 44% at the close.

In oats quite a good business was transacted, and values at the end showed a slight faming off from Saturday. The influence of corn could be credited to having ruled the fluctuations to a great extent, but besides that there was some independence to the market. Some quite large lines were sold out by Boyden and Bartlett-Frazier, all of which was readily absorbed by the crowd in general. May opened at 29c, sold off to 28%c and closed at 28%c bid. The cash market was dull and full ½c off. Offerings were not large but no inquiry existed. were not large, but no inquiry existed.

The provision market acted in a most unaccustomed manner. The receipts of hogs avier than had ever been known for one day before, numbering 68,000 head. Notwithstanding such an enormous supply of raw material the prices of provisions at the close of the day were higher than at the close of the session on Saturday. Heavy ouying, presumably by shorts, caused the reaction. May pork, which closed at $10.12½ on Saturday, opened this morning at $9.85, but recovered from that point and closed worth $10.15. May lard, which rested at 6.65c on Saturday, opened to-day at 6.50c and closed at 6.62½c bid. Ribs dropped .07½c per lb at the moment of the opening, but per lb at the moment of the opening, recovered that and .00c besides by the end of the session.

WHEAT OFF AT CHICAGO ON BEAR-

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.-Wheat was easier today under lower English cables, May closing 16c lower. May oats and corn each closed 1/sc lower, but provisions, after an early slump, finished at an advance. Wheat opened weak here because New York sent selling orders to inaugurate the day's business, and those of a larger quantity than the Chicago bulls were prepared to absorb. A Liverpool cablegram received by a New York firm, saying that the foreign market, after opening firmer, had closed weak owing to freer offerings from Argentina, was given as the cause of the weakness in New York. Receipts at primary markets were light again. The total was 145,000 bu, against 142,000 bu on Monday last week. The visible supply since a week ago showed a decrease of 1.654,000 bu, compared with a decrease of 333,000 bu on the corresponding week of last year. May wheat, which closed at 53%c bid on Saturday, opened at one sale at that price, while hundreds were at the same time offering it at 53%c. During the forenoon it ranged between 53%c and 53%@531/c, being about steady at 531/c at 12 o'clock. The export clearances were again disappointingly light. Late advices from Liverpool were weak, and, it was said, were accompanied with selling orders for wheat. Centinental markets, on the other hand. showed an improvement upon Saturday's closing. Pardridge and Charley Smith were said to have been the heaviest buyers today. The market ruled weak during the greater part of the afternoon, with the prices at times apparently maintained with difficulty above 53%c. May closing at 53%c.

The corn market opened very heavy and below the price at which puts sold on Saturday. It did not get above the put price all day, but became weaker as the session all day, but became weaker as the session progressed up to within half an hour of the close. There were sellers of May at the opening at from 44% to 44%c, and it had declined to 44% 644% before 12 o'clock. It became dull after the decline, with a feeling of heaviness generally pervading the crowd. The demand for shipment, it is claimed, was very limited. Receipts were light to-day, but for to-morrow receipts are estimated to show considerable increases over the recent average. The visible supply increased only 163,000 bu, as compared with an increase of 1,649,000 bu a year ago. The Trade to-morrow owing to the State holi-day to commemorate Lincoln's birthday.
